

Our memories from Brussels

The first question what we heard more than a hundred times is “Why did we choose Belgium? Wasn’t there any other country?”

We have to say: THERE WAS! But our first choice was this country, this city and this school. Why? It is a good question, I would say: Both of us were a bit afraid of the French language, so we wanted to do our Erasmus in a school where we can take some classes in English and some of them in French.

The only thing to say is that we have not regretted it, this city is amazing. All the teachers were kind, and they helped us a lot, same as our classmates. We want to say thank you for forcing us to speak in French and also that they changed the language to English when they noticed we couldn’t understand something.

However, some of our classes were difficult because of the language, we learned a lot, and we had many opportunities to meet professional workers which helped us to improve our skills what we will need in our future carrier.

“The multiculturalism, that’s what I love the most. People come from everywhere to live here. Everybody is kind and helpful, they speak many languages and they are interested in other cultures. It was strange when people asked me “Quelle est ton origine?”-First, I didn’t understand the question, but I got used to the fact that finding an original Belgian person is really unusual. I can imagine my life here. Unfortunately, I have to return to Hungary but in the future I may come back to Brussels for the long term.”

“In fact, this was my first “long journey” without my family as I have never lived abroad before on my own so it started as a new adventure for me. In the beginning it was very hard, but after a while it was getting easier.

The first thing which comes to my mind when I think back to my last semester is the people who were helpful and friendly to us already in the very beginning. We visited so many places all around Belgium, it has unique landscape and wonderful cities such as my personal favorite Brugge. I learnt a lot about cultures and experienced good and bad also, however I will always think back to my first journey with gratefulness and admiration to my family and people I got to know there.”
